○About the social security and tax integrated reform

As for the social security and tax integrated reform, as lively debates were promoted in the government and ruling party, in February 2012 the Cabinet approved the "Outline of the social security and tax integrated reform", and during a regular session of the Diet in 2012 a related bill was submitted according to the steps listed in the "Outline".

A bill concerning the social security and tax number system was also submitted during the regular session of the Diet in 2012.
